Gratitude & Greetings

Having returned from an extended stay at the Omoribe Children's Home we are happy to report that we have healthy, inquisitive children who love to color, draw, jump rope, build with Legos and sing. The Omoribe Children's Home is blessed with a staff of dedicated men and women to watch over, protect and care for the children and a team of donors that make the Children's Home possible. Thank you!

Omoribe Kitchen Upgrade

The children's home matron, Sibia, and her cooking assistant, Abel, cook nourishing meals every day for the Omoribe kids. Unfortunately, the wood fire creates a tremendous amount of smoke and an unhealthy work environment. To solve the problem a roof vent was installed that allows most of the smoke to be released into the air. This simple fix has made a major difference for everyone who helped in the kitchen.

Forever Hungry

It's amazing how children are forever hungry! That's true for the Omoribe kids, too. An early morning breakfast of porridge is long-gone by lunchtime. By evening, after a long day of school, chores and play, the kids are ready for another meal. The children at the Omoribe Children's Home eat simple fare such as ugali, beans, rice, and vegetables like kale and black spider plant. To feed one child for one month costs $35 or $1.16 per day. Urgent Need to Repair the Primary School Building

The government education and health department is requiring that the primary school adjacent to the children's home, be repaired or risk being shut down. For all eight classrooms repairs include painting, repairing door frames, hanging doors, and building steps because the soil around the foundation is severely eroded. Total cost of the renovations is $4304.00 This primary school is home to 14 Omoribe students and many community children whose families would not otherwise be able to afford education for their children. Let's give them a safe school building that allows them to learn and grow. To help, please click on the following link:
